

Identity and Reflexivity in Qualitative Research: A Case Study from Pakistan

Workshop held at Berlin Graduate School Muslim Cultures and Societies, Altensteinstraße 48

Date:

Tuesday July 9, 2013, 9.30 am–12.30pm

Organiser:

Prof. Shirin Zubair

Participants:

doctoral students of the BGS MCS and other advanced (doctoral) students

Readings:

- The first chapter of Reflexive-Ethnography: A Guide to Researching Selves and Others, Charlotte Aull Davies (1999, Routledge)
- The chapter titled : 'Theoretical voices and women's own voices' , authored by Janet Parr in Jane Ribbens and Rosalind Edwards (eds.) Feminist Dilemmas in Qualitative Research (1998 Sage)
- Research project: Situating Islamic Feminism submitted to BGS MCS by Shirin Zubair

Requirements:

- to come prepared with discussion points and questions on the readings
- the participants should be engaged in and have some knowledge of qualitative research methods and feminist theories
- willingness to talk about your own research

Credit Points:

0,5 CP

Application:

The deadline for application is June, 28 (via e-mail to office@bgsmcs.fu-berlin.de).

Contact:

For any queries or questions, please contact: shirin_zubair@hotmail.com

Workshop Outline:

Seminar on theoretical frameworks based on the required readings followed by presentation of data from my research project on Pakistani women's identities to engage the participants in analysis of the data in the light of the relevant feminist methods.

Draft Programme:

09.30 - 10.45 : Discussion of theoretical frameworks/ Workshop on analysis of data
10.45 - 11.00: Coffee Break
11.00 - 12.30: participants get in groups of 4, each group prepares a small presentation on given research topics or chooses to introduce its own research methods.